HE MAKES REPLY TO MR. SPENCER

Former Senator Chandler Issues a Signed Statement On the Note Question.

JIM CROW CARS AS ISSUE

He Quotes Two Southern Papers to Show That This is Regarded As Argument.

(By Associated Press.)
CONCORD, N. H., October 3.—Former
Senator William 12. Chandler to-night issued a signed statement upon the raliroad rate question in reply to remarks by President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern Rallroad, published in the morn-ing newspapers. Mr. Chandier says: Mr. Spencer's general statement is that nothing but broad and legitimate facts, acthing but broad and legitimate facts, conditions and arguments concerning railroad rate legislation have been presented to Congress and the public by the railroad managers, while none of that character has been advanced by the other side, so there is nothing us yet which needs answer. "The egotism and conceit of Mr. Spencer in thus dealing with needs answer. "The egotism and conceit of Mr. Spencer in thus dealing with a great question shows the worthlessness of his general utterances.

"Tarticularly, however, he does deny that the Jim Crow cars have over been in any sense a factor in the argument on his side. But he does this in the face of the statement made by the Macon Telegraph that the bill must be cesisted on the Jim Crow car ground, saying, 'If there were no other refuson for opposing the scheme to concentrate this power in Washington, the Telegraph would oppose it on this single ground and the statements of the Charleston Post that appenis are being made cleverly enough by the railroads and that the southern people are quickly moved by play upon their prejudices, and this is being taken advantage of in the treatment of the Jim Crow car question.

"In view of these statements, Mr. Spencer's dealed is incorrect, and he had leave Mr. Chandler alone for a time.

"Mr. Spencer also says that in his address before the Manufacturers' Convention at Atlanta. In May he did not use the Jim Crow car argument, and that it was the argument privately used, but the more in public evidence than the free passes which were used to control the believes and continues to assert. It was no more in public evidence than the free passes which were used to control the convention.

"That Mr. Spencer made any open apmore labely the convention. Mr. Chandler nover passes which were used to control the convention.

"That Mr. Spencer made any open appeal to the convention, Mr. Chandler never knew till new. Such an appeal was not necessary; the Jim Crow car argument or free passes and other similar agencies had done the deadly work, and the natural voice of the convention was smothered.

"This Atlanta convention was held on May 1st. On May 2sth, Mr. Chandler said in the Washington Post that Mr. Spencer, the strongest railfroad manager, intellectually, in the country, had been designated to make the issue with the President, and that Mr. Spencer would attempt to consolidate the South against legislation by the Jim Crow car argument.

"Four months clapsed before Mr. Spencer."

Four months clapsed before Mr. Spen cer made any denial whatever. Now he says he did not use the argument; that it was not used before the convention, and that he has never used or referred to it that he has never used or referred to it elsewhere.

"That it was not used publicly before the convention, Mr. Chundler admits. As to the rest of the denial, Mr. Spencer's memory is conveniently eclipsed. Although he has not yet referred and replied to the Jim Crow arguments of the Telegraph and Post and other southern powspapers. These leaves these heavest three heavest these heavest three newspapers, there is yet time before Congress meets."

Spilman, field secretary of the Sunday-school Board of Southern Baptist Convention, made two eloquent addresses, which received the deep appreciation of all present. Some Talk of His Being Made Brigadier General.

Brigadier General.

In military circles there is a rumor to the effect that Captain Joseph E. Willard, former Lieutenant-Governor of the State, will shortly be appointed brigadier, general of the brigade of the three regiments of the State. The matter is entirely conjecture, however, at this time. There is no telling what will happen. It is known that there has been some agitation of this subject, but whether or not any definite steps will be taken is only hearsav at this time.

Seeks to Restrain the Wabash From Holding Proposed Annual Meeting.

(By Associated Press.) ST. LOUIS, October 3.—Suit for injuncion was filed in St. Louis Circuit Court to-day by Joseph Ramsey, Jr., president of the Wabash, against the Iron Mountain and Wabash Railway Companies, the Mercantile Trust Company of New York, Walter S. Wilson, H. M. Walker and George J. Gould.

In his petition Mr. Ramsey asks the George J. Gould.

In his petition Mr. Ramsey asks the court to grant him an injunction preventing the proposed annual meeting of George Gould and his associates at Toledo, Ohlo, where it is proposed to elect a board of directors and a president to centrol the Wabash road for the next year. Judge Taylor ordered the defendants to show cause Friday why a fomporary injunction should not be issued. The plaintiff alleges that one result of the meeting would be to stific competition in traffic between the Wabash and Missouri Pacific roads between St. Louis and Kansas City, Mr. Ramsey says he is a resident of Missouri, while the defendants are non-residents. He owns $50,000 par value of the debenture bonds of the Wabash, class "B," and one hundred shares of the capital stock. He brings the suit, he says, for himself and others similarly situated. The Missouri Pacific Railway, he says, holds 20,000 shares of Wabash stock, the from Mountain holds $60,000 shares of preferred stock and $5,35,000 par value of debentures, these shares being held in trust by the Mercantile Trust Company of New York, Wilson, Walker and Gould.

Gould, he says, owns and controls a majority of the stock of the Missouri of the source of the missouri of the Missou cantile Trust Company of New York, Wilson, Walker and Gould.

Gould, he 'says, owns and controls a majority of the stock of the Missouri Facific and controls the majority of the stock of the Iron Mountain Raliway.

Wells H. Blodgett, general solicitor of the Wabash, said; "It is the general custom for one road to hold bonds or stocks of another as part of its assets. I can't see how it can be classed a combination in restraint of trade."

Alex, G. Cochran, vice-president of the Missouri Pacific, said:

"There may be a question raised at the trial of whether or not Mr. Ramsey actually owns the stock which he claims. There may be another question, as to whether the real purpose of the suit is to prevent the stilling of competition or because Mr. Ramsey fears that if the stock was voted it might prevent him from retaining his position as president of the Wabash. Mr. Ramsey has nover before made any complaint, and this question only arises when there is a fight on."

SEARCH FOR MONK STILL WITHOUT RESULT

(By Associated Press.)

EDNA, TEXAS. October 3.—There are still two hundred men in the bottoms unsuccessfully searching for miles for the negro. Monk Gibson, charged with the murder of the Conditt family.

Four companies of military are one camped here, and they are being jeered by many of the younger element, while the older heads content themselves with criticisms of the Governor and facetious remarks about "tin soldiers." There are now many who believe that the negro must have gotten away or died. The nerso got away Friday night after having been given a severe thrashing, enough to have materially weakened a much stronger man. During the four nights and four days since then he could have had little sleep if he were in the bottoms, even though other negroes fed him, and none have been found who would admit that they had fone so.

Men and horses are worn out by the long search, and fresh ones have been put into the chase. Every county in this section of the State is now represented among the searchers, and every nook and corner of the county has been gone over.

Crowe gives a story of his life and says he was a prosperous butcher in South Omaha, when the elder Cudahy came there, built a packing house and drove him out of business. Crowe met young Cudahy on the street, and the boy fits threached the subject of working the old man for a big ransom. Crowe concluded to go in with the boy and get a third of the profit, but he got cold feet, believing the schemer was a trap. The Cudahy boy proposed demanding $5,000 from his father, but Crowe and the second party he took into the scheme, thought $5,000 was enough.
